Welcome to Lambda Alpha International (LAI) an international, honorary land economics society which operates through a network of chapters. The Baltimore Chapter (www.lai-baltimore.org) is a very active group of professionals from business, academia and government who meet to learn and exchange information on a broad range of topics related to land use and development. Issues include public policy and planning, financial market reports, real estate market reports, design, transportation, the environment and sustainability, preservation, development, and innovations.

Please contact Jim Leanos, VP of Membership, at 410-321-9600 or jleanos@corpro.com if you have any questions.
